Crops That Are Worth Considering This Summer and Fall

BEARDLESS WINTER BARLEY A crop that is fast growing in popularity—making exceptionally large yields of grain, besides furnishing a very nutritious green feed. Yields on our crops averaged well over forty bushels per acre, all having been field inspected and certified by the Virginia Crop Improvement Association. For larger grain yields and owing to the increasing demand for seed, you will make no mistake in planting Wood's Certified Beardless Barley.

ABRUZZI RYE The genuine strain always commands a premium over wheat, besides furnishing excellent grazing during the fall, winter, and spring months. Our Pedigree Abruzzi Rye is the largest yielding of all strains of Abruzzi Rye.

CRIMSON CLOVER The South's best summer soil improver and hay crop. The quality of new crop seed is extra fancy this year, and with much lower prices now existing, Crimson Clover should be in popular favor following grain crops. We can supply both Imported and Domestic grown seed for immediate shipment.

ALFALFA CLOVER Every farm should have a field of Alfalfa, as there is no other crop that will yield as large a tonnage of nutritious hay of excellent feeding value. With the use of adaptable seed, inoculated, on well prepared land, you are assured of a good stand. Late summer and early fall is the safest time for planting. Wood's Alfalfa is guaranteed U. S. Verified Origin.

Perennial and Biennial Flower Seeds

FOR FULL DESCRIPTIONS SEE OUR SPRING CATALOG

Plant perennial and biennial flower seeds now to have blooming plants next summer. They will make larger and more brilliant flowers than are had from spring planting.

Prepare the ground as fine, smooth and level as a rake will make it; plant in rows so the young plants may be easily seen; cover lightly with a good rule to cover four to six times the diameter of the seeds; very fine seeds should be pressed into the soil.

Half hardy varieties (marked H H), need protection; varieties marked (T) tender, should be wintered in the house.
